

The Internship

by Preun BB

His sack hung heavy and slack in my hand. He was on his back in the hospital bed with his legs up in the stirrups. I looked up at him from between his legs and met his eyes, rolling the sensitive organs around gently. His eyes darted up from my cleavage to meet my own, and a thrill of flattery ran through me. Even in this situation, he couldn't take his eyes off me.

"Are you ready, Mr. Wester?" I tried my best to sound in control, but my voice was wavery. I had waited so long for this moment. He was hung, just as I had hoped. Each ball was almost big enough to fill up a fist. The tight green band at the top of his scrotum pushed them together into a shiny balloon of flesh.

It was a pointless question. Neither of us could ever be ready for this. There was no practice, no preparation, no how-to guide on the best way to remove your future husband's testicles. The best I could do was some medical manuals and a few very informative websites.

The procedure seemed simple enough. As long as I made sure to tie his spermatic cords up tight enough, there shouldn't be any danger of anything going wrong. I checked the webcam setup for the 50th time. I knew I was going to want to rewatch this once in a lifetime event for years.

"I'm ready. And Nikita...No matter what I say, or do, or act out..."

He swallowed hard.

"Don't stop. Just don't stop partway, no...no matter what...I just.I don't know how bad it'll be, for me. But I want this. I want you. I've wanted you for a long time."

He was smiling through teary eyes. "Please take my balls from me, Nikita. I give you my full consent to castrate me."

His words sent jolts of arousal through me, but I tried to stay calm, and smiled up at him.

"Sure thing, Mr. Wester."

His expression was pained and excited and scared and confused, all in one.

I'd had a crush on him since the first day of the job. He was my boss, and almost twice my age, but he wore his age like a comfortable coat. He worked out, but didn't brag about it. His body spoke for itself.

He was married, of course. A man like that couldn't stay single. She had snagged him right out of college. A failed condom (sabotaged, I speculated, but he was too polite to imply it) had led to a surprise pregnancy that led to a shotgun wedding. He tried his best to keep things alive, but her passion didn't last. They were practically roommates now. They pay for groceries separately. He sleeps in the guest room.

So his confession two months into my internship wasn't that surprising. As his personal assistant, I tried to stay in the office as late as he needed me, and he burnt the midnight oil pretty frequently to stay away from his "wife". We were often the only ones in the office late at night, and without much work to do, we talked. A lot.

I was stunned. We weren't even on a first name basis, but I felt like I knew him so well.

"I love you, Nikita. I wish I could be with you. You're smart, and beautiful, and..." His eyes flitted down to my blouse, again. I crossed my arms underneath my bosom and "accidentally" pushed them up, maximizing my cleavage. I could see his cock stiffening in his pants, and I swear I heard him gasp.

He lusted after me, but he barely knew me. He especially didn't know about my dark, fucked up fantasies. I had to reject him. He couldn't possibly give me what I wanted.

"I...I saw some of those sites you've visited. When you were in the office and I was out, and...you used your corporate laptop. You know...inappropriate sites."

My blood ran ice cold. It was one thing for your boss to know that you watch porn; it was another when it was...my porn. Castration porn.

Even the thought of it sent a tingle up my spine, and a rush of blood to my loins. My favorite author was prolific, publishing story after story about women taking men's testicles in any variety of ways: A schoolgirl ripping a pair off on accident, their cords snapping in her hand. An uncaring nurse snipping some boy's last broken ball off in a hospital. A college student squeezes her boyfriend too hard and ends his sex life in the middle of class...I indulged my darkest fantasies online, never letting my fucked-up libido affect my real life, never telling anybody about what I really masturbated to.

Until now. Until my boss saw my search history. Why did he even bother confessing his love if he already knew my secret? What could he possibly see in me after knowing about that?

"I want you to know..It's ok. I'm ok with all that. It's...it's not my preference, personally, but I'd never kinkshame you." He laughed nervously. "I mean, as long as you're not cutting my balls off in real life, I'm ok with any fantasies you have."

Holy SHIT! My inner demon perked to life and sent a flush of color to my cheeks. Hearing him casually talk about my favorite fantasy, the one that had sent me into paroxysms dozens of times since accepting this job...Hearing him say it in real life, about his OWN BALLS...He was smiling down at me, looking loving, leaning in close. I could smell his cologne. I knew he wanted a kiss, or a slap, or some kind of answer.

"What if I did?"

He cocked his head, puzzled. "Did..What if you did what?"

"Cut them off. If you actually let me cut your nuts off, I'll be willing to be with you."

I felt like I was having an out of body experience. I couldn't recognize my own voice, sultry and flirty instead of awkward. It was a ridiculous fetish request, something I'd never even say in private, something too embarrassing for me to let any boy know about. I couldn't stop myself, I knew this was stupid, but...God, even getting rejected would be hot. Seeing that look of disgust in his eyes, followed by horror and despair as he realized what kind of person I am, and exactly what I wanted to do with him.

I'd always wanted to castrate a guy. And most of all, I wanted to castrate this guy. In all my fantasies, he was begging to be let go, tied down, me between his legs with sharp tools or my bare hands as he screamed in agony. Watching him run from me in fear, beg me not to ever talk to him again, that look of pure terror at even the faintest hint of his castration...It would be a shadow of my fantasy, but it was something.

But he didn't run, or scream. He relaxed, and smiled. "Ha! I'm sorry, I know it's...it's probably not something you wanted to share with me. I'm glad you can joke about it." He exhaled hard and rubbed the back of his neck. "I was almost worried for a second you actually wanted to neuter me!"

"Anyway, I can take a hint. You don't want to get with me. I should have known."

He shook his head. "If I was 20 years younger...But you're right. It's not appropriate. I appreciate your work, Nikita. I'll see you tomorrow."

As soon as I got home, I knew I had to make it a reality. Just talking about it in real life, with the object of my affections...holy shit it was a rush. That scene, that shadow of my fantasy, was enough to keep me up all night, rubbing myself silly, squirming climax after shuddering climax onto my dildo as I pictured his face screwing up in terror and confusion, before laughing off my ridiculous request... If that's what just talking about castration with Mr. Wester was like, I needed the real thing.

I started dressing down for work. Now that I knew Mr. Wester was attracted to me, I was sure I didn't have to worry about him sending me home for inappropriate outfits. Pantsuits gave way to anime T-Shirts that were a bit too small, strategically unbuttoned blouses, and loose V-necks that plunged lower than was appropriate. I would have gone braless every day if the back pain didn't kill me.

My wardrobe change has the intended effect. Mr. Wester started ogling me even more blatantly. I had my desk set up across from his, and nearly every day, I could see him staring over the top of his monitor, his sightline locked onto my cleavage. I pretended not to notice.

It was when he was most distracted by my boobs that I would start introducing the topics of our personal conversation. Now that we knew openly that he was attracted to me, it seemed silly to play coy.

"I know you like them, Mr. Wester. I just need you to give me your testicles, and you'll be able to play with them whenever you want! Wouldn't that be nice?" I'd give a little hop to jiggle them around, and he couldn't help but follow with his eyes.

"Oh, it'd be totally worth it. I'd just be so sad because I wouldn't be able to enjoy them any more, Ms. Singh. How about we split the difference, and you just take one of my nuts?"

I bit my tongue to keep from squealing as I felt my panties grow damp. He just looked so damn cute when he squirmed like that. He was trying his best to be playful, but I could tell it still made him deeply uncomfortable underneath his manly facade. And yet, there was a definite tightening in his pants. Even castration talk wasn't enough to kill the boner my body gave him.

As the weeks went by, he started provoking me with castration offers.

"Hey Nikita, I've been thinking it over, and I will give you my nuts. How does...next Thursday sound? I do have to ask that you snip them, instead of... you know, like in the stories you read..."

"You mean, you'd rather have me cut your nuts out than squish them into mush? I'd really prefer the latter. How about we split the difference and I only pop one?"

He laughed, but I could tell he was still uneasy. He played it off as a harmless inside joke, but every time he offered his balls to me, I could see the idea sinking into him more, each offer a little more sincere than the last. Was he really thinking about it? Did he realize how serious I was?

Finally, one day, I gave my own confession.

"I haven't been joking about taking your balls, Mr. Wester."

"Please, Nikita. It's ok, we've all got our quirks and kinks, I know that you-"

"No, Cole." I still felt weird saying his first name. "I want your balls off. For real. I've read about it, and watched tons of youtube videos. I could do it. Please."

He swallowed hard. I pushed my arms around my pillowy breasts. I had gone braless today; it wasn't the most comfortable, but it let him see my dark nipples clearly through the white fabric of my Himiko Toga shirt. I could almost hear him moan, and a dark spot of fluid dotted the front of his trousers.

Precum. I made him nearly ejaculate just with my body. He was wrapped around my little finger now.

I almost came when he nodded silently.

I sprayed antiseptic on the outside of his shaved sack, and slid the scalpel down the center, splitting his package along the indent formed by his two separate testicles. The skin around his shrinkwrapped scrotum was starting to tinge blue, and almost no blood escaped from my incision. I'd attached two heavy duty rubber bands around the base of the sack on the exterior, to minimize bleeding from the scrotal incision, but it wouldn't be enough pressure for the incision of the spermatic cords. He shivered as his sack bloomed crimson under my knife.

And just like that, his nutsack separated into two flaps and his maleness popped out. I heard him gasp, like he'd just jumped into a pool of ice water. Two big, translucent white orbs hung out of the ravine I'd made in his ballbag. The name "Family jewels" made more sense than ever; the two things were the approximate shape and color of pearls, but much larger, and crisscrossed with faint blue veins just below their surface. I was delighted to see that they looked even bigger outside the sack, somehow. I would have to keep each one in its own specimen jar.

"How's it feel?"

"Well...They're numb. Really numb." He blinked away tears. "But... I can still feel them. They feel cold, and...strange."

"That seems about right. This is NOT something your body is prepared to handle. I doubt a lot of your ancestors ever felt their own balls outside of their body."

"It's weird, but it's...it's kind of relaxing. I feel so open, and...vulnerable."

I grinned evilly. "Well, Mr. Wester, that sounds about correct. I'm about to remove your testicles. You're probably never going to be more vulnerable than you are now."

I pulled his left ball out of the sack gently, and attached another rubber band around the base of its naked cord.

"And you're very open. Quite literally."

I got the stubborn little donut off the elastrator, and he squealed sharply. This band was much stronger than the one around the base of his scrotum. It would cut off all the circulation to his first doomed testicle.

I pulled the pearly organ away, from his body, brought my scalpel up to meet the ropy tethers that kept it attached to him, and-

Snkt

With almost no pressure, my blade slid through the connective tissue and separated half of his manhood from him forever. I looked up into his eyes, holding the dangling organ next to my face, grinning sweetly as I drank in his expression. He was panicking now, and starting to hyperventilate. Maybe it hadn't fully set in before, when he was drunk on the intoxicating view of my body. Now that I was his left ball up, totally separated from the comforting encapsulation it had in all his life, dangling, dead, permanently gone...

"No...Stop." His plea was faint, but understandable.

Maybe he was role playing. He had read all of my favorite fantasies, after all. He knew that instant regret of a testicular loss, that overwhelming sense of unmaning, played a heavy part in all of those overlong castration sagas she read.

It could also be real. His terror, his shaking, his thrashing about...it was very believable.

But it didn't matter. He'd given me consent.

"Please, for the love of GOD, Nikita, I...I don't want to...I don't want to lose my last nut."

He gasped those last words out, like they physically pained him. He was staring down at me, cheeks tearstained, chest heaving.

"Are you sure, Mr. Wester? Are you absolutely sure? I don't want to do this if you don't want it. We're already halfway there though, and it does seem like a waste of your left testicle if we give up now, but...if you want, I can sew you back up and let you keep it."

I smiled up at him, as best I could. Even I didn't know if I was telling the truth. I wanted to snip that last little cord, so close and vulnerable and important to its owner...I don't know what I would have said if he'd actually wanted to stop.

He smiled sadly down at me, and we both realized he'd been mistaken. He still wanted me, no matter what the cost.

"I'm...I'm so sorry, Nikita. I...That was a moment of weakness. I can do this. I...I want to do this. Please...Take my ball."

He looked up at the ceiling and closed his eyes.

"I'm...I'm sorry for temporarily ruining your fantasy. Please, please just....castrate me. "

I smiled, and exhaled deeply, eyeing the lone organ dangling between his legs, rolling his other disconnected ball around in the palm of my hand.

"Thank you for giving these to me."

He smiled down at me. "Thank you for taking them. I...I love you, Nikita."

"I love you too, Cole."

Snkt.

No fanfare. No loud squelch, or meaty implosion, or geyser of bloody cum pumping out of his stiff cock. His cock did bob, improbably hard, as the pinkish grey testicle slapped against the metal tray below, but he didn't manage a final orgasm. I held both of his swollen orbs in my hand, raising them up high so he could see them clearly. He stared dumbly ahead, his eyes glazing over as reality took hold of his brain. The shock of his emasculation was too much, and he jerked backwards before passing out, terrified but in minimal pain. I'd done my job right; the cords were long enough to tie off. There wouldn't be any bleeding. He was going to be ok.

He didn't have to serve divorce papers to his wife. She had them sent directly to him in the hospital. She didn't want to stay with a man who didn't have any balls; the fact that she hadn't seen fit to use his manhood in the past year didn't matter to her. I stood by while he signed them, squeezing his hand and smiling. Then I ushered the priest in, and we got married right there on the spot. I finally had the perfect man.

He'd always been confident and social, the center of attention at any party, and he still was, post-castration, but I could tell he was less competitive with other men. He started naturally doing what I told him. He kept his body shape, thankfully, and his prodigious pale cock still hung down nearly to his knees, but he couldn't get hard anymore.

He still found ways to please me. He'd never had a chance to give cunnilingus before (another one of his ex's oddities), and I was more than willing to guide him around my pussy and show him exactly how to eat me out, no manhood required. After a few weeks of practice, our sex life managed a comfortable rhythm, with him eating me out at least twice a day. I'd try, once in a while, to give him something in return, but after enough failures we gave up entirely. Orgasms were a thing of the past for him now.

Sometimes, I'd catch him sulking, playing with himself, twirling his limp cock around. He kept a sunny face around me, but I could tell he missed them. Sometimes I'd hear him mumble in his sleep, incoherent snippets about "getting his balls back" and how he "wished he was still a man". I'd cuddle and comfort him through the nightmares, and soon enough he'd nestle up next to me, soothed, sleepily rubbing his groin against my leg, letting me feel the delicious softness that was what was left of his manhood. Eventually, the nightmares stopped.

Even through his loss, I could tell he was so much happier as a eunuch with me than when he was a man married to his ex-wife. I knew he hurt from what I made him give up for me; I had taken something incredibly special and important and permanent from him.

Even if he left me, I'd always have two pieces of him sitting on my mantle, floating in their jars. A bond like that wasn't easily broken. Cole and I were together for life.

Everything was perfect.

Until next time

You made it to the end. Hopefully your gonads are more functional than the ones you just read about.

I love hearing from readers. Whether you've got feedback, a request, an oddly specific scenario you've been dying to see written, a unformatted wall of text meticulously describing each and every ballbusting fantasy you've ever masturbated to, or just want to correct all of my typos, drop me a line.
