The Cult

Justin blinked awake, groggy and bleary-eyed. His head throbbed, and mouth tasted like a barn, dry and hot and sticky. Even when he opened his eyes, the darkness didn't disappear. Wherever he was, it was pitch black.

How had he gotten here? The last thing he remembered was that frat party...Or was it a sorority? It was hard to say. There were shots, and dancing, and women. Must've been a sorority. Or was it a club? There had been so many shots. His head pounded, and he could still smell the booze on his own breath. How long had he been here? Where even was here? He tried to stand up, but something chafing his wrists held him back. Rope?

Wait.

Where were his clothes? And what was this place? He was tied down onto some kind of stone table, so tightly secured he could barely bend his knees and elbows. He struggled against his bonds but it was no use.

"Hello? Hello?! Where am I? Help! Help get me out of here!"

"Stop struggling, boy, and rejoice. You are here for your salvation."

Flickering illumination filled the room. Shadows still framed the woman who stepped forward between his legs. She was tall and pale and perfectly nude save a silvery pendant that hung down between her breasts. Long dark hair framed her heart-shaped face.

"Who...who the fuck are you?!"

"We are the hundred hands of Poly." Voices from around the room said in a low chant. Looking around frantically, he saw robed figures encircling him. The walls were covered in murals, and as his eyes focused their details became clear. They were men and women, all nude. The women stood tall and proud, each holding something red and unidentifiable in their hands. The men all had faces contorted in either agony or ecstasy, and each had their hands shoved between their legs, like they'd just gotten kicked in the nuts. He was on some sort of stone altar, its surface marbled black and white save for a smear of brown between his thighs.

"Who...what...what? Poly...What is this, some sick prank?"

"And I am Poly," The woman gave a slight bow, smiling beatifically. "Welcome to our ritual. You are so blessed." Her hand snaked between his legs, and he gasped when she grabbed his balls and gave them a gentle squeeze.

"Ow, fuck! Stop, don't touch me. I...I have a girlfriend. I'll call the police-"

"No need for that, Justin." Maria stepped forward, wearing the same drab robe as the rest of the women (for he'd realized all the figures were definitely women). "I definitely don't mind if you participate in the ritual. I was the one who brought you to our goddess's attention."

"M...maria?" What was his girlfriend doing here? Was this some weird sex thing he'd agreed to? But why were other women here? She was intensely jealous, she'd never agree to a weird roleplay orgy. When he'd proposed they go poly, she hadn't spoken to him in a week. He'd had to keep his side chicks a secret.

"Would you like to be the first to prepare my sacred seeds, acolyte?"

Maria bowed. "Yes Poly. I am honored." Her voice was a dull monotone, like she was reciting a script. "What shall I be for you today?"

"For your boyfriend? I should think...My mouth. I would like to taste him."

Maria stepped in front of Poly and climbed onto the broad altar, on her hands and knees. She bent over until he could feel her breath on his naked scrotum, its thin skin raised in goosebumps at the feeling. Even beneath the form-obscuring garb, he could see the gentle curve of her figure.

"Maria, if this is some sort of game, I...I want out. This is too weird for me, sorry. Maybe I agreed last night, but I was so drunk I don't even remember."

She said nothing, just took his balls in her mouth and rolled them gently around. Poly sighed and look down at her wistfully. As if on cue, Maria looked up at him and bit down. Hard.

Pain shot through him, grinding and nauseating from the deepest bits of his manhood. His screams filled the room as thrashed in pain, testing the limits of his bonds. His girlfriend held on like a dog on a bone, twisting her head back and forth to follow his movements, only barely avoiding ripping his balls out of their cords. All around, the 'acolytes' stood motionless, their hoods obscuring their faces.

And Poly just smiled at him. It looked like she had something in her mouth, but where she'd gotten it he couldn't guess. He couldn't think about that anyway. His girlfriend sank her molars into him even harder than before, and he felt something crunch inside of him. His vision went white.

Finally it was over. She spat him out and sat up, gazing down at him dispassionately as he squirmed and moaned.

"Fuck...Fuck. Maria, what the FUCK! I think you really hurt me. Like, really hurt me. This isn't funny, let me go!"

She melted back into the circle without a word, but he swore he saw her give an evil little smirk.

"Next acolyte, step forward." The figure next to Maria stepped forward, taking her place. When she lifted her hood back, he gasped. It was Robin, the sexy little blond in his sociology class. They'd hooked up a few times but he got bored pretty quick; she just didn't suck a dick the way Maria could.

"What limb shall I be for you, Poly?"

"My hand, acolyte. And show him all the mercy he deserves."

Robin gave his swollen sack a stinging backhand. The sound of the impact rang out like a bell, and it left his tender orbs aching. Before he could catch his breath, more blows followed, ringing out in succession. Each meaty slap was harder than the last. His vision started to darken as his eyes rolled back into his head, the pain so bad it chased his consciousness away.

"Enough! That's enough, acolyte." Robin stepped away reluctantly, but not before giving him several more slaps.

"Acolyte!"

"I'm sorry, Poly. I'm sorry. I'll obey you better next time. You are my god, and I am your hand."

She melted into the shadows as another girl took her place, this one unfamiliar to him. She was tall and slender, her form barely making a curve beneath the cloth. The Justine question asked, another limb named.

"Foot."

He tensed in anticipation of the agony to come as she lifted herself up and stood on the altar next to his crotch.

As she lifted her foot up high, he saw that beneath the robes she was nude. Her pussy was tight and shaved. This was small comfort when her foot came crashing back down, pinning his balls to the stone. Again and again, stomp after stomp, grinding pain giving way to a deeper, terrifying tearing. Something was starting to break inside him.

And there were so many more acolytes.

An eternity of agony passed. Knees, stomps, kicks, punches, more biting. Tortures he'd never dreamt of, a pain he would've thought impossible. By the time they had all finished, he could feel his balls pressing against his loins, so swollen that they barely fit the gap between his legs that had previously nestled them so comfortably. Blood trickled down from shallow cuts and tears on his scrotum. He'd passed out a few times, but the cruel women had just waited for him to come to before continuing the 'ritual'.

"Are you ready, man? I'm going to take them now."

The room was swimming. Poly's words barely carried through the ocean of pain. Ready for what? What more could she do? What more could she take from him?

"It's ok. They never are." Through his blurred vision, he made out a glint of metal. She was holding something silvery and sharp. Around him, the acolytes began chanting softly, in a language he'd never heard.

She leaned in close, and her knife pricked the skin between his sack and dick. A droplet of blood beaded on its tip.

Oh.

Oh no.

"Wait..." She looked up at him, her face as placid as a lake on a windless day. "Please. Please don't...Please."

"I've already waited too long." She whispered, her gaze transfixed on his bruised, package. "I need these, and I shall have them. For they are mine, and they have always been mine."

"It's time for you to lose your balls."

"As all seed is yours, and all manhood belongs to you. All praise Poly, the many-handed god, giver and taker of Man." The acolytes changed.

"I gave them to you, before you were born. But you misused them, and you have lost my trust. You have betrayed my acolytes. You do not deserve my gifts. They have poisoned your mind and weakened your soul. And I shall make you perfect again."

"No, god please no no no no no--"

His begging went unheard. She pressed the dagger gently into him, like she was paring a peach, and skin parted softly beneath its edge. Icy terror gripped him, choking him quiet. He couldn't even speak as the goddess between his legs began to carve his balls away from him. Her knife circled the orbs, almost lazily, scrotum parting before she pulled the battered, bruised things away from his body. Then, all too quick, the blade slid through the cords just above. A sharp stabbing pain replaced the debilitating ache in his nuts. Blood gushed out, hot and fast, splashing bright red onto the dried stain between his legs.

The horror of the reality started to set in. She had cut his balls off. It didn't feel real, but he knew it was. But his body just couldn't make sense of the sudden lack between his legs, the comforting weight that had been replaced with blood and pain.

"Don't worry, boy. I won't let you die. I'll keep you safe, and give you cause to follow."

"Our goddess accepts all eunuchs and women." The circle chanted. "All without balls may follow her teachings."

"Get the brand. Our newest member has much to learn, and he's bleeding out very quickly." He stared at her dumbly, but consciousness was once again starting to fade.

"You cannot be an acolyte, former man, but our temple needs cooks and cleaners and slaves of all kinds. We will need your help. There is much work to do."

"So many of your brothers have misused my gifts. They have become a burden, damning them, just as they did to you. But me and my followers shall help your brethren, and bring them into our fold. The age of men is passing."

She held up the orbs by their tattered cords, the things hanging heavy in her hand, swinging pendulously with her words. Beneath his cock was only blood and pain and tattered flesh.

"The age of Poly is now. Welcome to your new life, slave."

Until next time

You made it to the end. Hopefully your gonads are more functional than the ones you just read about.
