

Office Management

by Preun BB

I awoke the Monday after my "disciplinary meeting" to an intense pain in my chastity cage. I tried to avoid thinking of anything sexy as I staggered up and hobbled to the bathroom, my lone nut swinging painfully between my legs. I could still feel the microchip that had been implanted in it, and I was coming to the grim determination that I would never stop feeling it. I gritted my teeth against the pain and stumbled forward.

I desperately ran ice-cold water over the tiny metal chastity cage, taking care not to get any on the still-healing wound in my scrotum and testicle below. I could feel my dick calming down, getting small enough so it almost fit in the cage without pressing against it painfully. I had never been big, but our company castratrix had put on the smallest cage I'd ever seen. Every day since my rupture had me waking up in agonizing pain, both from my remaining healing testicle and my penis trying its damndest to stretch the galvanized steel that kept it obedient.

I got ready for work and drove in, dreading what my manager had in store for me. Last week had been my pity week, one week without any nut torture. Of course, I didn't get to take work off; taking vacation immediately following a single or double rupture was grounds for immediate dismissal (a policy that had to be explained to dozens of eunuchs in the past as they were escorted out by security). My manager, Diane, had made it abundantly clear how unnecessary she found this healing time. She hadn't wanted me to keep anything downstairs, let alone a testicle AND my penis. My chastity cage and burning microchip weren't enough for her. She would not be merciful on me this week.

I had barely sat down when I heard her voice, and my stomach dropped. "John. Could we chat in my office real quick?" She was wearing a broad, friendly smile. We walked to her back office, and I had a seat.

"So...Your formal recovery period finished this weekend. As you know, I haven't been allowed to punish you for infractions for the past week." I tried to smile. "Despite your...numerous failings." She opened a drawer, and pulled out a familiar white remote. My cock flexed involuntarily. Ever since my operation, the mere thought of my encounter with that cruel Asian girl makes me rock hard. I'd read online about some kind of Stockholm syndrome men with my condition get for their torturers. I let out a pitiful moan as my cock bruises itself against the steel cage.

Diane drops her smile. "That sort of behavior is what we're here about, John. The whole purpose of leaving you a testicle...We want your sex drive reduced. And...in the last week, we haven't seen enough of a change." Her manicured hand carefully turns the remote up a single tick.

White-hot pain shot through me. My hands flew to my extra-loose scrotum, and I instinctively grab my ball. I could feel the careful healing my testicle had gone through last week being destroyed by my implant. Diane had me on the weakest setting, but my organ was still as tender as can be. The intensity of my week-old blue balls only added to my agony.

"John, why did you choose to violate our company's dress code for single testicle men?"

I frantically searched my mind for how the half-men that Ms. S had at her command dressed. I shut my eyes tight and grimaced in agony, as if that would help the burning. "I...what dress code? We don't have..." I abruptly stopped talking, as I realized how foolish I sounded.

Diane sighed, and moved the dial up one more notch. I screamed.

"It was sent out at 4:00 A.M. this morning. You need to be on top of your inbox if you want to remain employed." She sighed. "You've already given up so much to stay here, it would be pretty sad if you got fired."

"Yes Diane. Please, god, I'll...I'll change. Is there an extra set of...clothes?"

"Set of what?" Diane rolled her eyes. "Just get naked, ok? Your remaining genitalia are legally ours. We all know about your condition. Hell, we watched the video Ms. S sent us. There's no point being modest here."

I strip off as quickly as I can, trying to avoid touching my tender and alarming warm scrotum. Diane smiles at Ms. S's handiwork. "Very good. I'm glad you're learning to be obedient!" She smiled at me again. "We can turn this off now." She turned the dial.

To this day, I don't know if it was an accident or not. It was her first day with the new device. Did she really not notice how much longer the turn was, going from 2 to 5 instead of 2 to 0?

It only lasted a second before she realized her mistake, but I couldn't tell. I fell down screaming. A burning scent filled the air. My week of abstinence seemed to amplify all the nut pains I had endured before.

Diane turned it all the way back to zero. "Oh my gosh, John! I am so sorry!" She crouched down next to me, and I closed my eyes to avoid looking up her skirt. "Level 5 shouldn't be used unless there's a serious disciplinary need. I am sooo sorry." She smiled at me again.

"Well, you know what to expect now. I'll skip your first level 5 punishment to make it up to you. Oh, and do you mind leaving the door open on your way out? It's a little...smoky in here." I dragged myself up and walked out.

Working naked was humiliating. I was the only male in our 15 person office, and it seemed like every coworker found an excuse to come by my desk and ogle my remaining genitals. One of them, a short filipino lady who had started too recently for me to remember her name, was daring enough to lean over and grope my nut. She prodded it mercilessly, looking for the scar that indicated where my other half used to hang. She moved her fingers over to the remaining nut, feeling up the puckered spot that was a reminder of where the needle had gone in.

Afternoon meetings didn't go any better. My progress review with Diane went poorly; nut pain had made it hard for me to concentrate in the last week, and I hadn't gotten all of my work done.

She frowned as she went through my buglist. "Four unfinished items. I think we need...Hmmm...Ms. S recommended level X for X minutes." She smiled. "Level 4 for 4 seconds. Are you ready?"

"No no no no please don't-"

Szzzzzzzz

The smell of burning flesh filled the office again. The length of it was more than I'd taken before. Testicular pain wracked my chest and stomach, and I spasmed in agony.

I don't know how I made it through the day. Diane found reason after reason to play with her remote. I broke into tears several times that day, causing surrounding coworkers to whip out their cell phones and surreptitiously record me. My ball swelled with every new burn, and by the end of the day, my sack was almost completely full.

Somehow, the day ended. I waddled out to my car, unlocked it and sat down. Then I gasped in shock. I carefully extricated my fat testicle out from underneath me, trying to remain conscious.

2 weeks later: Suture Removal

I knocked on Ms. S's office door. The swelling in my nut had partially gone down, and the scratching agony from the microchip was now a dull ache. Diane's punishments had become, if still incredibly cruel, at least more predictable and avoidable.

Ms. S opened her door and smiled adorably at me. "Good to see you! How have you been healing? Come on in, please!" She guided me into her office and into the back room, where she gestures to a pair of stirrups. I got into them and spread my legs apart. She brought over over a key and undid my chastity.

Immediately my cock springs to attention, and I scream in pain. My swollen dick had dark purple patches all over it, and the tip was almost completely black. The blood rushed back into it, filling me with a brand-new type of pain. The doctor giggled at my pain.

"Looks like your cage was a little too small. Sorry about that!" She smiled down at me, and I tried not to let her see how hard I'm getting. I know I should hate her; she put me through hell. But...I couldn't stop thinking about her. I kicked myself every day for missing the opportunity for a handjob.

"This will only take a second." She produced a pair of medical stitch scissors, and casually snips through the stitches at the bottom of my sac. I sighed in relief.

"All done!" She smiled down at me. "You can cum now. Just make sure not to do it on company property! I wouldn't be allowed to let you keep anything if that happened."

"Thank...thank you."

I walked back to my desk. I felt like a new man. Diane still had her microchip in me, but the breeze blowing on my cock felt almost pleasing, despite the bruises.

6:00 came, and I hobbled out to my car. I was surprised to find Ms. S waiting for me there. She flashed me her adorable smile again, and I stumbled as I almost came.

"Glad I could catch you! I just want to say..." She looked down at my bouncing cock. "I'm sorry for how this had to go. I'm really glad they let you keep most of your genitals, though! Life's not that different with one nut, right?"

"It's...it's ok. I know you're just doing your job. And yeah, I'm fine. I guess. Just a little lopsided now."

She glows. "Yeah. And...I know I offered you a handjob earlier, if you let me put the implant in. And, well...you got the implant, but not the handjob..."

My heart beat drowned out every other sound. She came up to me and wrapped her hand around my bruised, crooked manhood. I almost cried from the pain.

"It's ok. You can let it out." She gave me a pump, rubbing over the incredibly bruised tip.

I sobbed openly. The pain that overtook me prevented me from resisting. Somewhere, deep inside me, I wanted this more than anything.

It didn't take long. I was a quick shot on a good day, and despite my pain, I'd missed three weeks of orgasms. On the third pump, I cried out. My dick released three long ropy streams of cum. "Thank you...god, thank you so—god!" Another spurt cut me off.

"You're welcome, John." She leaned in and gave me a kiss on the cheek, and another jet of pent-up cum covered the pavement.

"What's going on here?" Diane's voice. I heard the clicking of her heels on the pavement, and my eyes widened in fear.

Ms. S backs away from me guiltily. "Whoops! Sorry, John. I thought everyone had gone home." She smiles apologetically.

I struggled to stay standing, the remnants of my orgasm still dribbling out. Diane walked up to me and smirked at my damaged manhood.

"Well, I hope that was worth it, John."

She puts her hands on my shoulders. Before I can react, her knee is in between my legs, rocketing up into my solitary, fragile nut.

crnch-SQUICK

The sound of my testicle rupturing is unmistakable to all of us. As I begin to lose consciousness, I hear an argument break out above me.

"Diane! Why the fuck would you do that?"

"You know the punishment for orgasming on company grounds."

"And YOU know how much that microchip costs, and how little our department has gotten for Male Containment this quarter." Ms. S huffed. "I worked really hard on that! Do you know how tough it is to implant a chip that deep without rupturing the testicle? It took me sooooo many test runs to get that right."

Diane giggled. "Do you think it's broken?"

"Of COURSE it's broken! We both heard—"

"I mean the chip, S. I know your work. I'm sure it's sturdier than a half-cooked nut."

I passed out.

I wake up in the stirrups again, groggily coming to. I try to move my legs, but they're held securely in place.

"Oh good, you're awake!" Ms. S's bubbly voice filled the room. "We'd really like to get this over with. You're keeping us rather late, John!"

"What...why am I..." My voice was thick with pain. I couldn't quite see straight, and I could barely remember the moments preceding my unconsciousness.

Ms. S leaned over me and sighed. "Diane popped your last nut, remember?"

Pain and despair filled me as I realized the pain from between my legs wasn't just the chronic ache I'd gotten used to, but the sharp, stabbing pain of my new injuries.

"Of course, we'll be terminating your employment, effective immediately." Diane's tone was coldly professional. My stomach turned to ice.

"We'll need to recover all company property from you. Phone, computer, badge, and..." She smiled sweetly. "Your microchip."

I struggled feebly at the restraints, but it was no use. Ms. S scooted between my legs, scalpel and forceps in hand.

"We've already disinfected and prepared you for surgery." The scalpel's bite is sharp and cold when she slits my sac open. I gasp as her delicate surgeon's hand enters my scrotum, and starts rolling around various chunks of my broken testicle.

"I know what you're thinking, but don't worry! It might hurt, but I'm not causing any real damage. We ran some tests on you while you were out, and you've already been effectively neutered." She dug her thumbnail into a particularly large chunk of nut, and tears blurred my vision.

"Here we go!" She smiled triumphantly. "Still intact too. Now let me just—"

The scalpel digs into it, and she removes the microchip like she's cutting the bad part out of an apple. I almost black out again, but Diane slaps me awake. "No more sleeping! We've been waiting long enough for this." Ms. S pulls the rest of the testicular matter to the bottom of my sac, pushing the liquified and semi-solid remains out of my scrotum entirely, into a stainless steel receptacle Ms. S has positioned between my legs.

"Let's just tie this off, and-"

Snip

She severed my last intact spermatic cords, and the remains of my testicles slid into the receptacle.

"There!"

My eyes were partially rolled back. I couldn't think about anything but the pain and the loss of my sex life.

"Are...are we done?"

"Not quite." She walked back to her counter and came back with a little opaque tube, and a bottle of something.

"Your penis is technically company property too, remember? We're going to have to remove it before we let you go." She signed. "Sorry, just following our company's rules."

She smeared lube on the catheter, and slowly inserted it down my urethra. I held back tears as it rubbed against the inside of my bruised penis.

"And now..." I felt her scalpel on the base of my cock. I tried not to scream.

I failed. It dug in, and hit the catheter. She circled the scalpel around the base of my penis. I felt another intense, soul crushing sense of loss. With my balls gone, I couldn't have children, but maybe hormone therapy could help me orgasm still. Without a cock...

"And that's it!"

She pulled the catheter out, and my cock came with it. She slid the remains of my manhood into the same stainless steel bin that held my right testicle. My last chance to lose my virginity was in that steel bin.

Ms. S finished stitching up what little was left between my legs. My scrotum hung, distended and completely empty. Her penectomy hadn't left me even a nub. "You're going to have to sit to pee now." She laughed, as if this whole thing was hilarious. Diane was less amused, and clearly impatient to go home.

She informed me of the final steps of my termination; security would be waiting at my desk, and I had one hour to collect my things and vacate the premises. Stitch removal would have to be done on my own dime, now that the company wasn't responsible for my healthcare anymore.

I made it home and crawled into bed, clutching the scarred, stitched area between my legs. I didn't want to think about what had happened that day, about Ms. S's cheerful disassembling of my manhood, Diane's casual cruelty...

I was cockless, nutless, and jobless. I rolled over and miserably went to sleep.

Until next time
